Sub : Report on “Making academic research effective with artificial intelligence”

A workshop under the Research Cell of the MGMIHS was conducted on Making academic research effective with artificial intelligence on 22nd August, 2019 at 3rd floor, Auditorium.

Prof. Sourish Dasgupta, Founder and CEO of Rygbee Inc., Professor at DA-IICT. He did his PhD in Computer Science from University of Missouri, Kansas City, USA.

Abstract: Academic research is challenging, to say the least. There are several reasons why research becomes slow and frustrating. Much of that can be attributed to ineffective methods that researchers usually adopt, instead of following certain tried-and-tested research methodologies. One can see two extremes taken by researchers - those who would not use any modern software tools available for research management, and then those who would use a plethora of tools for every single kind of research activity that they do. Both may fall into the danger of getting lost very easily.

Prof. Sourish Dasgupta will be presenting a new genre of research management tool called RAX (<https://raxter.io>) that behaves as an artificial intelligence powered personal research assistant (RA) for academic researchers.

Total 176 nos. of Faculty and Students attended the lecture.

Faculty	:	87 Nos.
PhD Students	:	46 Nos.
MSc Students	:	43 Nos.

Title: Making academic research effective with A.I.

Abstract: Academic research is challenging, to say the least. There are several reasons why research becomes slow and frustrating. Much of that can be attributed to ineffective methods that researchers usually adopt, instead of following certain tried-and-tested research methodologies. One can see two extremes taken by researchers - those who would not use any modern software tools available for research management, and then those who would use a plethora of tools for every single kind of research activity that they do. Both may fall into the danger of getting lost very easily. Prof. Sourish Dasgupta is going to present a new genre of research management tool called RAX (<https://raxter.io>) that behaves as an A.I. powered personal research assistant (RA) for academic researchers. Building upon his argument that existing tools such as discovery engines and reference managers are not sufficient enough for the subjective and evolving needs of researchers, Prof. Dasgupta will elucidate the key use-cases that is often ignored and which RAX addresses. Prof. Dasgupta would be very happy to entertain questions related to the A.I. behind RAX or his journey into the world of startups from the world of academia.

Background

Nursing Research Society of India - The birth of NRSI in the year 1987 had been a very significant landmark in the history of nursing profession in India in general and nursing research in particular. The society, NRSI, the first of its kind in India, is a premier organization. The society was formed with the main aim of providing forum to nurse scientists by organizing conferences and workshops throughout the country to promote nursing research activities.

Today, with 1700 members including 35 international members on its roll, it has moved to the fore front of promoting research, disseminating the research findings, providing the best evidence for nursing practice and positively influencing the quality of nursing practice and nursing education in India. The society is growing steadily larger and stronger. NRSI promotes synergistic collaboration in the conduct, dissemination and utilization of nursing research.

MGM New Bombay College of Nursing is well known for its excellence in academic, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities in the country and strives hard to keep up the quality of education to provide globally competent nurses. It is one among the pioneering institutes in India, for successfully conducting the NPCC programme (recognized by Indian Nursing Council and Maharashtra Nursing Council) from the academic year 2017-18.

Systematic reviews integrate conscientious, explicit and judicious use of best evidences for exemplary decision making. A high quality systematic review is the most reliable source of evidence based practice generated from synthesized research findings.

In the health care sector systematic reviews provide highest level of evidence for quality patient care. Nurses in various sectors perform vital roles in assimilating evidences for providing quality health services to the mankind globally. Despite nurses conducting independent and interdisciplinary researches, the contribution on systematic review continues to reside in a luminal space.

Considering the demand of the hour the national conference “Systematic Review: A tool for evidence based practice” was organized on 28th & 29th November 2019 and the Post conference workshop on “Protocol preparation of Systematic Review” on 30th November by MGM New Bombay College of Nursing in collaboration with Nursing Research Society of India (NRSI).

Aim

The aim of the National Conference was to introduce participants to various components of Systematic Review and familiarize them with different analysis software.

Objectives

At the end of the conference, the participant will be able to;

- explain basics of evidence based health care
- describe stages of systematic review
- formulate research review question
- conduct relevant literature search
- assess the quality of evidence
- analyse and interpret the findings
- write a review report

Participants-

The event brought together total 226 participants from various institutions across the country. The state wise distribution of participants were Maharashtra (14), Madhya Pradesh (15), Uttar Pradesh (2), Chhattisgarh (3), New Delhi (6), Gujarat (16), Assam (3), Tamil Nadu (3), Kerala (11), Dubai (1) and Nigeria (1). UNFOLDING THE THEME

The theme of the National conference on “Systematic Review: A tool for evidence based practice.” was unfolded by Dr. Prabha K. Dasila, Professor and Director, MGM New Bombay College of Nursing, Kamothe, Navi Mumbai.

She addressed the audience that today's health care environment is very complex and greatly different from the past. Over the period there is enormous explosion in technologies, methods of treatment, drugs and opportunities to disseminate knowledge, which places the health care professionals including nurses in a challenging position to keep themselves abreast with the new knowledge. The discovery of new knowledge provides the foundation for high-quality evidence-based practice.

She also mentioned that the researchers in nursing carryout work in nursing education, administration and patient care with an ultimate goal to develop a body of knowledge for the profession. Nowadays the researchers are increasingly using evidences from previously conducted studies to inform their own research question. These are considered as the gold standard for summarizing evidence found in research literature.

Considering the fact the organizing committee had extensive deliberations on various themes and subthemes and finally concluded to conduct NRSICON 2019 on Theme - Systematic Review: A tool for Evidence Based Practice
