Faculty Development Program on E-training on online teaching, training and evaluation.

Duration : March 2020 – June 2020

Organized by : MGM School of Physiotherapy, Navi Mumbai.

Event : MGM School of Physiotherapy, Navi Mumbai started planning and creating schedules for online academic activities for teaching and learning from 23rd March 2020 as soon as lockdown was declared in view of COVID-19 pandemic. Schedules were then distributed to students and uploaded on the institution website. Various platforms were explored for compatibility with web based learning. Few platforms were found to be user friendly. Faculty members were trained for online teaching and evaluation on Google classroom platform. Google classrooms were created for all batches of undergraduate students and post-graduate students. Video conferencing applications such as Zoom, Google Duo, Cisco WebEx, Microsoft Teams and Google Meet were all explored and utilized for e-training and video based learning. As directed by the university, remedial / improvement examination was conducted online via Google Classroom platform for documentation of internal assessment. Examination was conducted online as directed. Currently, faculty members are undergoing training for developing e-content for online courses.
