To achieve the above objectives, I was given a formal training around the SOPs and work instructions pertaining to above objectives. A detailed induction plan was given to understand various functions and their roles and interactions with Medical Affairs. I also interacted with my fellow colleagues to understand their function and role. I was also given some responsibilities to achieve the above-mentioned objectives. Declaration by the International Society of Biomechanics (ISB):

The ISB is dedicated to supporting international initiatives that will promote research, education, and the provision of healthcare in the field of biomechanics. The objectives of the ISB, with regards to the advocacy of projects in EDC regions, include the following:

- To make the Society truly international.
- To help develop skills of, and/or opportunities for, clinicians and researchers in EDC who do not have the resources available to do so on their own.
- To provide collaborative learning opportunities for students and researchers in developed countries to help them understand the challenges faced in the developing world.
- To enable donating organizations to do something beneficial with equipment that is no longer needed by them.
- To help provide a sustainable initiative that will allow biomechanics skills and knowledge to flourish in developing regions.
- To enable clinicians and researchers in developing countries to solve biomechanics-related problems specific to their own region.

The ISB would like to ensure the long-term sustainability and overall success of all EDC projects. As such, all participants must be clear on the objectives of the EDC participating organization(s) and the supporting organization(s), in addition to the outcomes each party wishes to achieve. This Memorandum of Understanding is intended to help clarify this for all participants. It is also the framework by which the ISB will evaluate the success of the project in the short and long-term and to find out whether the expected outcomes have been achieved, thereby enabling improvement of this process for future projects.

The overall mission of MGMIHS is to provide healthcare services, research and higher education particularly in the area of medicine, nursing, physiotherapy and health management. Within physiotherapy/rehabilitation, training and research in the area of Biomechanics is essential to help maximize functional independence of people with physical impairments resulting from a wide spectrum of conditions i.e. repetitive stress, congenital, developmental and degenerative conditions precipitated by traumatic, vascular and pathologic origin. Precise and complete kinesiological assessment of such conditions will guide clinical decision making for accurate conservative, surgical, prosthetic/orthotic and ergonomic management for maximal functional outcome.

2. What is the primary strategic objective(s) of this project? [Please specify details about one or more of the areas listed below. In formulating your objectives, consider specific results you would like to achieve.]

   a. Teaching/educational programs:

   - To design and seek approval for a postgraduate degree course in Biomechanics designed at a level of global merit (to enable qualified postgraduates to participate in projects conducted worldwide) and local value to meet specific functional needs of our population emerging from a lifestyle influenced by exclusive Indian culture far different from Western lifestyle.
   - Establish training for students from various disciplines such as Physiotherapy, Bio-engineering, Mechanical engineering, Prosthetics - Orthotics and Orthopedics at graduate, postgraduate and PhD level.
   - Enhance skills in clinical biomechanics of faculty members of MGMSOP

   b. Research programs:

   - Produce high end research in the area of human movement science related to clinical questions; to offer health care solutions global in nature and specific to the Indian population.

   c. Clinical assessment – diagnosis and treatment:

   - Provide precise and complete kinesiological assessment of congenital, developmental and degenerative conditions precipitated by traumatic, vascular and pathologic origin which will guide clinical decision making for accurate conservative, surgical, prosthetic/orthotic and ergonomic management.

   d. Other (please specify):

   (Include additional lines if necessary)

3. What initiatives/actions (project design and/or management strategies) will be implemented to achieve the results outlined in Question 2?

a) Teaching/Educational programs:

- Curriculum for postgraduate course in Biomechanics will be designed and sought approval from MGMIHS and IIT Mumbai.

RM Nilegaonkar

- A circular will be sent to Bio-engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Prosthetics and Orthotics and Orthopedics departments within the above mentioned Institutes to inform students from respective disciplines training schedule in biomechanics.
- Training will be imparted to faculty members in form of continuing professional development.

b) Research programs:

- Collaborative research projects between the 3 organizations will be developed to produce high end research studies encompassing fundamental and clinical biomechanics. PhD students will be appointed on appropriate research projects. Broad areas of research are-

  i. Barefoot walking and the risk of plantar ulceration (in collaboration with IIT Mumbai, Cardiff University)

  ii. Foot and knee instability and the development of OA (in collaboration with Cardiff University and the University of Sydney)

  iii. Yoga postures and their effect on the musculoskeletal system (in collaboration with IIT Mumbai and Cardiff University)

c) Clinical assessment –

- Diagnosis and treatment: Information pertaining to available clinical biomechanical evaluation tools will be circulated to various departments within and outside the hospital within Mumbai and Navi Mumbai. Referred patients will be assessed using biomechanical tools to arrive at precise measurement of impairments. Income generated through such services will be used for financial viability of the center. Expenses incurred for annual maintenance of laboratory equipment will be covered partly from the income generated by the center and partly from the funding acquired for research projects.

4. Who will benefit from this project? (e.g. Students, patients, etc)

- Undergraduate and postgraduate students from Physiotherapy, Bio- engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Prosthetics and Orthotics and Orthopedics department will benefit from training. Training will be imparted to students within India and across continents. Every effort will be made to enroll students from within India and countries abroad.
- Faculty members from MGMIHS will benefit from skill development in clinical biomechanics
- A Biomechanics Center with expert input from biomechanics specialists worldwide operated in India will offer global merit training at subsidized cost thereby making it affordable for students from several developing countries.
- Patients with congenital, developmental and degenerative conditions of traumatic, vascular and pathologic origin will benefit from biomechanical evaluation.

5. What are the expected benefits for each group listed in Question 4? (e.g. Exposure to state-of-the-art methods of...)

- Students will be exposed to globally used state-of-the-art valid and reliable methods used for biomechanical studiessuch as quantitative movement analysis and plantar pressure measurement. They will receive hands-on training and have opportunities to use various biomechanical tools to conduct research in biomechanics. Such training of global merit will be available at affordable cost to students from developing countries.
- Patients will benefit from precise and complete kinesiological assessment which will guide clinical decision making for accurate conservative, surgical, prosthetic/orthotic and ergonomic management.
- Faculty members will benefit from acquiring skills for biomechanical evaluation which will be applied in both clinical practice and student training.
- The biomechanics center will benefit from financial viability through the above mentioned expected benefits.

Investigator Initiated Studies (IIS) Proposal

Study Title/Synopsis of the study shall be enclosed	A Prospective, Open label, Randomized, Comparative, Two arm, Multi-centric, Investigator initiated study to evaluate efficacy and safety of Levonadifloxacin with Teicoplanin-Azithromycin combination in hospitalized patients with Community Acquired Bacterial Pneumonia (CABP)
Study Rationale	Levonadifloxacin is a new benzoquinolizine subclass of FQs (Fluoroquinolones) which has potent antimicrobial activity against Gram-positive bacteria, including MRSA (Methicillin resistant Staphylococcus aureus), GISA (Glycopeptide-intermediate Staphylococcus aureus) and Levofloxacin/moxifloxacin-resistant Staphylococci. Its coverage of significant respiratory pathogens such as H. influenzae and Moraxella catarrhalis, in vivo efficacy for S. pneumoniae infections and activity against atypical respiratory pathogen Mycoplasma pneumoniae are good, with potencies comparable to and matching with the best drugs for the respective indications in its class. Activity against anaerobes and atypical organisms such as Mycoplasma genitalium, Mycoplasma hominis, Mycoplasma pneumoniae, and Ureaplasma spp. has also been demonstrated. A recent study has demonstrated that the ratios of ELF (epithelial lining fluid) concentration and concentration in Alveolar Macrophages relative to plasma concentration were 7.66 and 1.58, respectively, suggesting better lung penetration. The plasma, ELF and AM exposures were well above the MIC (minimum inhibitory concentration) value for majority of extracellular and intracellular respiratory pathogens Achievement of such good levels in lung combined with its broad-spectrum activity covering Gram-positive, Gram negative and Atypical pathogens makes Levonadifloxacin a potent antibiotic for the treatment of CABP. Levonadifloxacin is available in Indian market in both formulation of oral as well as intravenous. Levonadifloxacin has demonstrated activity against the most common bacterial pathogens of CABP, including isolates resistant to standards of care. Broad spectrum antimicrobial activity with favourable intrapulmonary pharmacokinetics makes Levonadifloxacin as suitable candidate for treatment of CABP. This study is intended to evaluate the efficacy and safety of IV and and oral Levonadifloxacin in the patients of community acquired bacterial pneumonia in comparison with Teicoplanin.

Objectives	Primary – To evaluate efficacy of Levonadifloxacin and Teicoplanin-Azithromycin combination in hospitalized patients with Community Acquired Bacterial Pneumonia (CABP) Secondary – To evaluate safety and tolerability of Levonadifloxacin and Teicoplanin-Azithromycin combination in hospitalized patients with Community Acquired Bacterial Pneumonia (CABP)
Endpoints	Efficacy Endpoint: Primary endpoint : Clinical success rate at TOC (Test of Cure) visit Secondary endpoint : Clinical success rate at EOT (End of Treatment) visit Clinical improvement rate at visit 2 (Early Assessment visit) Microbiological success rate at EOT (End of Treatment) visit Safety – Tolerability Endpoint: Incidence of adverse events / serious adverse events, Incidence of Nephrotoxicity & Incidence of Thrombocytopenia
Sample size	This study will gather data of approximately 168 patients from 15-20 sited across India.
Dosing regimen	Group 1/ EMROK arm will receive Levonadifloxacin administration: Levonadifloxacin IV 800 mg (each vial contains Levonadifloxacin 100 ml containing 8mg/ml) And Levonadifloxacin tablets (each tablet contains Levonadifloxacin 500 mg) will be administered as per product information. Levonadifloxacin Oral 1000 mg will be administered twice in a day, 11±1 hours apart. Levonadifloxacin IV 800 mg will be administered twice in a day 11±1 hours apart. One dose of IP will be infused over a period of approximately 90 mins. Group 2 / Teicoplanin-Azithromycin arm will receive Teicoplanin-Azithromycin administration: Teicoplanin will be administered 400 mg (approx. 6 mg/kg body weight) every 12 hours for initial 3 intravenous/ intramuscular administration as loading dose. After the fourth day of treatment: In mild and moderate renal insufficiency (creatinine clearance 30-80 mL/min): Teicoplanin maintenance dose should be halved, either by administering the dose every two days or by administering half of this dose once a day. In severe renal insufficiency (creatinine clearance less than 30 mL/min): Teicoplanin dose should be one-third the usual dose, either by administering the initial unit dose every third day or by administering one-third of this dose once a day. Azithromycin will be administered 500 mg oral/ intravenous once a day.
Duration of study	Minimum Duration of treatment will be 5days. (Duration of treatment can be extendupto 14 days as per investigator's discretion.) Study duration will be approximately 1 year.
Planned study dates	Mar 22 – Mar 23
