Short event report

The event was conducted on 3rd of August on the account of World breast feeding week. It was a joint activity which has been conducted by Dept. of Clinical Nutrition (MGM School of Biomedical Sciences), Dept. of Community Medicine (MGM Medical College), NSI Mumbai chapter. The purpose of the activity was to teach the correct techniques of breast feeding to the lactating and pregnant ladies and to give them information about nutrition during pregnancy and lactation. The hands on training had been given by Dr. Shilpi Malhotra. She explained in detail with her props the correct position and posture in which the mother should breastfeed. Different techniques were also explained which ensures that the baby gets properly fed. After the lecture the M.Sc. Clinical Nutrition students performed a skit. The skit was based on clearing some common myths and explaining facts regarding breastfeeding. At last they displayed the two galactogogous recipes for lactating women, these recipes were easy to make and convenient. They also explained the nutritive value and procedure to the ladies. It was really a great experience would like to give thanks to all the SBS team for their support and guidance.
